CENTERFIRE RIFLE

Trophy Copper

For years, Trophy® Copper has given hunters pinpoint accuracy, superior penetration and aggressive expansion in a copper, polymer-tipped bullet. Now it's available in two new loads that get even more from the proven design: 55-grain 223 Rem. and 250-grain 338 Lapua Mag. The projectile provides flat trajectories and tremendous downrange performance on everything from antelope to moose.

Features & Benefits

- New 223 Rem. and 338 Lapua Mag. offerings
- Copper-alloy construction provides up to 99 percent weight retention for the deepest penetration in an expanding bullet
- Tipped bullet cavity is optimized for expansion across a broad velocity range
- Grooved bullet shank for superb accuracy across a wide range of firearms
- Polymer tip and boat-tail design increase the ballistic coefficient for high downrange velocity and energy, with minimal bullet drop
