Urban Grey and Ranger Green Nylon

BLACKHAWK!® was founded by a Navy SEAL who set out to design a better battlefield backpack. His vow became our promise, and it began a lineage of nylon product categories that have forged a sterling reputation among tactical, military and law enforcement customers. BLACKHAWK! is proud to announce it is expanding several nylon product lines with two new colors to meet the needs of military, law enforcement and civilian users. The new Urban Grey nylon items offer a tactical advantage over black in many environments, especially urban and industrial zones. Grey is the predominant tone in these locales, and a muted grey is the least visible color—even in shadow. In addition, grey is not a traditional color for tactical operators. The public does not perceive it as aggressive. The new Ranger Green nylon items provide an advantage in more natural environments. This color is less saturated and slightly more brown than Olive Drab, providing greater versatility—including in urban settings. It is also more universally compatible with the many colors and camouflage patterns used around the world. Both new colors are available in a variety of proven nylon products.

Urban Grey Features & Benefits

- Alternative to black for better urban concealment
- Reduced contrast blends into more environments
- Less visible in low-light/no-light than black
- More discreet than black or camouflage
- Compatible with most Urban Grey equivalents

Ranger Green Features & Benefits

- Less saturated and slightly more brown than Olive Drab
- More universal than Olive Drab or Coyote Tan
- Compatible with a vast selection of colors/camouflage patterns
